Learning & Training Services

The Breakdown

In the wake of the Covid-19 pandemic, the Government has committed to making sure that at all stages of life, people are provided with the skills they need to train, retrain and get the job that they want. This objective was outlined in the Government's 'Build Back Better' plan for recovery from the pandemic and also in the policy paper 'Skills for jobs: lifelong learning for opportunity and growth'.

This procurement contributes to achieving this objective by providing access to a variety of training providers offering a range of high quality training services. It is designed to meet the learning and development needs of UK Public Sector bodies and is particularly aimed at benefitting wider Public Sector organisations.
